The dress code is very strict. Because of this, I have less of a wardrobe because certain pieces of clothing are "distracting". Also, there should be more events during the school day that make it more fun and energetic.

Be less strict about the dress code. I can't control my body type and how clothes will fit me, so not being able to be comfortable in what I'm wearing bothers me and other students at school. Even when I try to buy clothes that follow the dress code, no shorts, especially, cover my legs to the desired length. If we are so much of a More relaxed days and less projects/tests/quizzes.

Be less strict on phones.

More air conditioning

more Air Conditioning

Have more events during the school year

I think having better coordination between teachers would be good. For example, some nights we have no homework and others we have so much it takes the whole night to get done. Also, it seems like tests and quizzes are always on the same days as other classes. I also would like if there was more time to get up and move SMS can improve on more teacher appreciation because they teach us the 7th graders everything we know.

When we are going from lunch to the class after lunch, we should have more time to get to that class. Especially

I think we could have some time, not much but some, time to just relax and take a minute away from a fast
I think more planning between teachers. There are some times when we have a very light amount of work but sometimes we have an overwhelming amount of work. Also, having more multiple class projects would help our
